Membership Categories:

Professional - An individual working in the field of environmental education. Professional Members are entitled to full voting privileges, may compete for an elected or appointed position in the Association, and all other rights as outlined in Article III of the Association's Constitution.

Student - An individual enrolled full-time in a secondary or post-secondary degree program, or high school. Student members are entitled to all rights and privileges of Professional Membership.

Retired - An individual retired from active full-time employment may become a Retired Member, and is entitled to all rights and privileges of Professional Membership.

Life - Any individual may become a Life Member. Life Members are entitled to all rights and privileges of Professional Membership.

Family - Individuals of the same household, interested in the field of environmental education. One individual must be designated to transact business on behalf of the family. The Member Representative is entitled to all rights and privileges of Professional Membership.

Institutional - An educational institution, not-for-profit, or government agency whose objectives are consistent with those of KAEE. Institutional Memberships designate one individual to transact business on behalf of the Institutional Membership. The Member Representative is entitled to all rights and privileges of Professional Membership. Up to three additional individuals may be listed under the Institutional Membership to receive discounts on fee events hosted by the Association, but the rights and privileges of membership are not extended to them.

Corporate Membership - A for-profit organization or business wishing to support KAEE and engage in an exchange of ideas and information with professional environmental educators may hold a Corporate Membership. Corporate Membership holders must designate one individual to transact business on behalf of the Corporate Membership. The Member Representative is entitled to all rights and privileges of Professional Membership.
