

Spring 2012

Academic Internship Opportunities

Life Adventure Center of the Bluegrass

is currently accepting applications for Spring 2012 academic interns.

Qualified applicants must be 16 years or older, willing to learn environmental educational curriculum, and possess prior knowledge/experience within internship discipline.

Duties and Responsibilities

Interns must apply for a specific discipline in which they have an interest, previous experience, or knowledge. Interns may also be asked to observe, facilitate, and develop new environmental education learning opportunities regarding their chosen discipline.

Disciplines

- Environmental Education
- Forestry
- Horticulture
- Wildlife Management

Other Information

Academic interns will be supervised by the Environmental Education Program Manager. Internship length is determined by specific academic internship requirements at your specific college or university. Hours are flexible but typically average 15 hours/week. Interns will receive a modest stipend.
